Global Spotlight on Elections

One Day Professional Development for Educators

The Office of International Affairs and the Area Studies Centers at the Ohio State University invite educators from across the state to participate in a one-day professional development workshop. The objective of this workshop is to provide educators with information as well as the tools to explain, explore, and compare international election processes during this time in which our own national elections are in the forefront of our daily discussions.

Time: April 26, 2008, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. (lunch will be served)

Location: 140 Jennings Hall, 1735 Neil Avenue, Columbus, Ohio 43210

Featured Speakers:

- Bradley Richardson, Professor Emeritus, OSU Political Science, on Japan
- Alam Payind, Middle-East Area Studies Director, on Pakistan
- Andrey Scherbak, Researcher, Foundation for Social & Economic Research, St. Petersburg, on Russia
- Justin Lance, PhD Candidate Political Science, on Latin America
- Valentine Mukuria, PhD Candidate, on Kenya (just returned from Kenya)

Following the guest speakers and discussions, the second half of the day will be devoted to planning thematic units and lesson plans.

Workshop Follow-Up:

- Sharing documents and discussion on OSU Carmen
- Receiving feedback from a expert
- Reworking units/lessons
- Sharing new units and posting them

Participants will receive a certificate for contact hours (maximum of 12), including both workshop attendance and follow-up unit writing, to apply for professional education credit in their home districts.

For questions, e-mail global101@osu.edu or contact International Education Outreach at 614-292-6053.
